

Anthony C. Hackney, PhD, DSc

Professor Exercise Physiology & Nutrition

College of Arts & Sciences, School of Public Health & Medicine, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Education Background

- B.A. Health & Kinesiology, Berea College, Kentucky
- M.A. Exercise Physiology, Kent State University, Ohio
- Ph.D. Exercise Physiology, Kent State University, Ohio
- D.Sc. Sports Science Physiology, National Academy Physical Culture, Kaunas, Lithuania
- Graduate Certificate Public Health, University of North Carolina, North Carolina
- Post-doctoral training; Department of Defense and National Aeronautic & Space Administration

Research Experience and Interests

- Over 200 published peer reviewed research papers and book chapters
- Over 150 national and international scientific conference presentations
- Current and previous research projects funded by the National Institutes of Health, Department Defense, USAID, and the National Academy of Sciences
- Research focus is on the human endocrine system and the development of dysfunctions within the system from exposure to physiological stressors.
- Select publications listed
- Summary of major research focus
- ResearchGate Listing

Honors and Awards

- Excellence in Teaching Award (departmental 1998/2000)
- Fulbright Scholar of Medical Science – Lithuania (1997/98)
- Senior Fulbright Scholar of Public Health Nutrition – Poland (2003/04)
- Fellow American College of Sports Medicine (1989)
- Fellow American Academy of Kinesiology (2010)

University Professional Service

- Assistant Departmental Chairman (Exercise & Sport Science)
- Visiting Professorships (Uruguay, Kosovo, Norway, New Zealand, Germany, Estonia)
- Editorial Board member for five exercise science, sports medicine, physiology journals
- Board of Directors, Center for the Study of Retired Athletes, UNC-CH